DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informality:

Page 5, line 9, it seems that “surface 30” should read “surface 36”.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 10 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Claim 10 recites, “the handle member includes a bore extending therethrough for receiving said medial portion”. The specification does not describe however, how handle member “having a bore” is made to fit the handle of the wrench without destroying the head of the wrench.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1, 2 and 6-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Catanese et al. '799.

Catanese et al. discloses a movable wrench assembly comprising: a wrench having a pair of end portions (22, 24) and a medial portion extending between the end portions; a handle member coupled to the wrench such that the handle member is slidable along the medial portion (column 2, lines 6 and 7); locking means for holding the handle member in a position adjacent to a selectable one of the end portions of the wrench (column 2, lines 8-14); one of the end portions forms an open-ended wrench coupler; one of the end portions forms a box-ended wrench coupler; and the first one of the end portions forms an open-ended wrench coupler and a second one of the end portions forms a box-ended wrench coupler (column 1, lines 14-17).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Catanese et al. in view of La Podura '411.

Catanese et al. is described above. Catanese et al does not specifically disclose a sleeve having a pair of raised end lips. La Podura discloses a tool having sleeve having a pair of raised end lips so as to prevent the operator's hand from slipping therefrom. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have made the sleeve of Catanese et al's. wrench to have a pair of raised end lips as taught by La Podura so as to prevent the operator's hand from slipping therefrom.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 3-5 and 12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

9. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The art of record does not teach or suggest a tool handle having a plurality of indentations for engaging a biased locking member with biasing means urging the locking member outwardly from the handle member.
